To whom it may concern

I am writing to object to the late hours and the proposal for pavement tables in the licensing application for 60 Bartholomew Close.

Although its design and appearance might give a different impression, the area in which this building lies, is densely populated and predominantly residential.

Late hours almost inevitably lead to noisy departures, at a time the majority of residents are likely to have taken to their beds.

The public nuisance likely to be created by noise from tables placed on the pavements is wholly unacceptable:

- There will be the noise from customers eating, drinking and talking at the tables.
- There will be the noise from tables being stacked away - at a time beyond when many residents will have gone to bed
- Significant numbers of those using tables on Bartholomew Close are likely to exit along Middlesex Passage and Bartholomew Close North, rather than directly onto Little Britain. Footfall on Middlesex Passage is likely to carry a huge echo effect.

I should be grateful if you would acknowledge receipt of this objection.

Yours sincerely

Ann Holmes
