Project description:

The Barbican Area Strategy Review is intended to update the 2008 Barbican Area Enhancement Strategy to align with the Core Strategy, allow for changes in pedestrian numbers anticipated with Crossrail and to support members' aspirations for a Cultural Hub.

Summary of progress against spend:

Since the last gateway approval, Publica have been appointed as consultants on the Area Strategy Review. They have commenced desktop based information gathering and have commenced engagement with key stakeholders. Out of the £95 000 allocated for this strategy review £43,188 has been spent and £ 37311 committed as follows:

| Cost item        | Spent   | Committed | Total   |
|------------------|---------|-----------|---------|
| Staff costs      | £35,499 | £0        |         |
| Consultants fees | £7,689  | £37311    |         |
|                  | £43,188 | £37311    | £80,499 |

Recommendations:

Streets and Walkways Sub Committee

Members endorse the recommendation to the Resource Allocation Sub Committee to release an additional £204,078 from the City Fund to deliver the revised Barbican Area Strategy Review.

Resource Allocation Sub Committee

Members approve a sum of £204,078 from the City Fund to meet the additional costs of completing the Barbican Area Strategy Review.

Main Report

| 1. Issue descrip | An outline work plan for the Area Strategy Review waspresented to the Cultural Hub Working Party on 5 February2014. The Chairman acknowledged that expanding the areastrategy to embrace consideration of developing a CulturalHub would require a coherent approach and noted that theconcept was bigger in scope and scale than the areastrategies that had been completed to date.   |
|------------------|---|
|                  | To enable Members to make decisions regarding the future ofboth the Strategy and the Cultural Hub it is recognised thatthe following detailed information must be provided:   |
|                  | <ul> <li>Members to need to be clear on the variety and scopeof views held by the wide range of stakeholders. Thekey issues need to be established along withcommonalities and potential conflicts. The evidencebase for Crossrail passenger numbers needs to bevalidated. Current and future pedestrian volumesneed to be understood along with the potentialimpact of those potential pedestrian volumes onhighway infrastructure.</li> </ul> |
|                  | • Current and future pedestrian movement patterns and the degree they are currently impacted by the cultural offering and the future opportunities that increased pedestrian numbers might offer.   |
|                  | In progressing the project it is now recognised that to deliverthe necessary level of information set out above a number ofadditional costs will be incurred. The detail of these is asfollows:   |
|                  | 1) Engagement process - £ 56,130 required   |
|                  | In order to effectively consult with residents andstakeholders, a detailed engagement processspecifically for the Barbican Area Strategy Reviewwas developed and agreed with both BarbicanResident groups and Ward members. As part of this,additional tasks and events that have been requestedbeyond those originally proposed.   |
|                  | The additional events requested by members include9 pre-engagement scoping interviews to summarisekey issues ahead of stakeholder workshops, anadditional stakeholder workshop for business leaders,guided briefing tours for stakeholders to make thembetter placed to contribute to the workshops and aplenary session for all stakeholders in order to shareinformation and perspectives at the end of theworkshop programme.                        |

|    | Officers recommend extending the consultationprocesses as set out and are currently planning toimplement the agreed engagement process andsetting up sessions with resident's representatives,officers, members and external stakeholders.  |
|----|---|
|    | Officers have also been engaging with the currentreview of the Barbican Listed Building ManagementGuidelines to ensure sufficient consideration is givento the forthcoming Area Strategy Review within thiswork and vice versa.   |
| 2) | Crossrail passenger numbers - £43,200 provisionally required  |
|    | Officers were advised by TfL in late April thatCrossrail passenger estimates are due to be revisedand these will assume that Crossrail trains will berunning at capacity from opening day. It is currentlynot clear how many new Crossrail passengers will bealighting at Farringdon or Liverpool Street or whetherthe numbers will be significant enough to impact ontraffic signal timings at key junctions. Officersunderstand from Crossrail that figures will becomeavailable over the next two months. |
|    | If the new Crossrail numbers differ significantly fromthose originally provided a further comprehensiveconsideration of footfall generated by Crossrail andthe influence on both transport infrastructure and thecultural hub will be necessary which would fall outsidethe original estimates of staff and consultant time.  |
| 3) | Listed Building Management Guidelines - £3,500  |
|    | As set out above, Officers have attended meetings ofthe Listed Building Management Guidelines WorkingParty, serviced and supported the review process.The level of involvement in this initiative was notanticipated at the start of the Area Strategy Reviewand this has resulted in additional costs.   |
| 4) | Cultural hub feasibility - £70,840  |
|    | The original scope of work did not embrace the notionof a cultural hub. Officers have since discussed thescope of work with the appointed consultants, Publicaand identified additional work is necessary to clarifywhat a cultural hub might mean for the physicalenvironment.   |
| 5) | Additional expenses - £5,700 provisionally required.  |
|    | ARUP currently own 10,000 individual technical drawings for the Barbican Estate. They have asked for  |

|    |                        | <ul> <li>£500 for 8 weeks of access plus £20 per electronic copy of each drawing. Officers will need to visit ARUP's archive facility and identify each drawing needed. A total of 100 drawings has been allowed for plus staff time.</li> <li>Table 1 provides a summary of costs. A more detailed breakdown is available in Appendix 1.</li> <li>Table 1 – Summary of existing and proposed cost allowances</li> </ul>     |  |   |  |

|    |                        | Project Funding  | Staff Costs(£)   | Fees (£)  | Total (£)  |
|    |                        | CurrentlyApproved  | 50,000   | 45,000  | 95,000   |
|    |                        | AdditionalFunding required   | 57,639   | 146,439   | 204,078  |
|    |                        | TOTAL  | 103,362  | 191,439   | 299,078  |
|    |                        | - There remains a risk of a poor response for the engagement process due to part of the engagement process being held in July/August while people are taking summer holidays. Consultants have advised that follow up sessions may be required in September if there is a poor response rate. However we have provided reasonable lead in times for the meetings and early indications suggest this should not be a problem. |  |   |  |
