

CITY OF LONDON SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

COLLECTIVE WORSHIP POLICY

This policy was written and approved by The Board of Governors 17th October 2008. It has been updated in June 2014 and will go back to the board for approval in October 2014. To be next reviewed by June 2017.

As an independent school, CLSG acknowledges the regulations incumbent on maintained schools, and uses them as a guide for organising Collective Worship.

Assemblies are an important aspect of the school's spiritual, moral, social and cultural offering to students (SMSC). They provide students with opportunities to experience joy and wonder, and to reflect on the beliefs and perspectives which animate people's behaviour. They are a means of introducing students to moral and ethical questions, they enable students to learn about a wide range of social issues and help them to appreciate and celebrate diversity.

CLSG is a community of girls and staff that reflects a wide diversity of religious and cultural views. The assemblies seek to reflect that diversity, through staff led assemblies, through the active involvement of students of all ages and through visiting speakers.

The assemblies aim:

1. To foster a spiritual awareness amongst the pupils through a variety of means, including through a deeper understanding of current issues, through encounters with members of different faith communities, and through a reflection upon school's activities.
2. To encourage a sharing of girls' experiences and beliefs through girls' frequent participation in and leading of school assemblies. This sharing of experiences and ideals aims to bring the school together as a community in celebration and at more difficult times.
3. To foster a sense of unity; they are not supposed to be divisive or exclusive in any way.
4. To encourage participation of all in the assemblies, whilst recognising the statutory rights regarding withdrawal.

If parents do wish to withdraw their child they should refer to the Board of Governors in the first instance.
