Department of the Built Environment

‘You will not get far if you perceive the duty to be over burdensome or take a mechanistic approach....there will be progress if the duty is seen as a way of fundamentally changing the core values and culture of the organisation.....we need an outcome-oriented approach’

– CRE Chair 2001

1 The Act explains that having ' due regard for advancing equality ' involves:

- Removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by people due to their protected characteristics.
- Taking steps to meet the needs of people from protected groups where these are different from the needs of other people.
- Encouraging people from protected groups to participate in public life or in other activities where their participation is disproportionately low.

Policy/Project/Service where discretion may apply will also need to be considered when determining priority.

Please note that all new policies, projects or functions must be impact assessed as part of their development if any relevance to the duty is identified. The assessment should then be included as part of any decision or approval process e.g. included in Management or Committee reports.

Any requirement for new policies or restructuring of services and therefore the need to undertake an impact assessment, should be flagged-up well in advance as part of the annual service planning process to ensure it is part of the overall process and meaningful.
