To whom it may concern,

It is with some concern that I learn that there have been several applications for late-night venues around the area of my flat.

I understand that they applications are the following:

<https://www.cityoflondon.gov.uk/business/licensing/alcohol-and-entertainment/alcohol-entertainment-applications/Pages/Brewskee.aspx>

We know from experience that venues are unable to control the early morning noise from their clientele when they leave. This is the most minor issue.

More seriously, we suffer from our courtyard being used as an urinal and, on one occasion even worse, by these late-nighters. I hope that you will appreciate that this is unpleasant in the extreme and something that no-one should have to suffer.

Lastly, and most seriously, it may be recalled that when Caravaggios near us enjoyed a similar late-night licence, there was a death by stabbing. This has lead to the residents feeling very unsafe when returning at night; a situation that we should not have to live through again.

It would be much appreciated if these applications could be rejected because of the inevitable impact on us residents.

Many thanks for any assistance.

Best regards,

David Rees
