4. HEALTH & SAFETY UPDATE

The Committee received a report of the Deputy Town Clerk introducing the latest follow up report by Quadriga Health & Safety Ltd, commissioned to independently review and validate the progress made by the City of London Corporation in strengthening its health and safety management arrangements.

Ian Clements, Executive Chairman of Quadriga Health and Safety Ltd, delivered a presentation summarising the findings of the follow up review and highlighting the significant progress that had been made since the 2023 strategic review. The presentation highlighted that the majority of the 19 recommendations from the strategic review had been addressed or were in progress, with particular improvements having been seen in governance, training, policy development and the digitalisation of health and safety arrangements.

During the discussion that followed, Members raised questions relating to the effectiveness of the new governance arrangements, the sufficiency of resources to support health and safety improvements, and the completion rates for mandatory training. In response, it was confirmed that a Strategic Health and Safety Board had been established to provide oversight, and that governance structures were now robust and operational. It was acknowledged that, whilst significant progress had been made, further work was required to ensure all high-risk areas were adequately resourced and that training compliance was fully achieved. A programme of training for managers was ongoing and new digital systems were supporting improved monitoring and reporting, with emphasis on the importance of embedding a positive health and safety culture across the organisation.

RESOLVED: That Members: -

- Received the report and noted its content.

5. (DRAFT) EQUITY, EQUALITY, DIVERSITY & INCLUSION (EEDI) STRATEGIC FRAMEWORK

The Committee received a report of the Chief Strategy Officer outlining the City of London Corporation's (draft) Equity, Equality, Diversity & Inclusion (EEDI) Strategic Framework, which was shaped by the Corporate Plan 2025-2029, the People Strategy 2024-2029, the 2025 EEDI Review and political priorities.

During discussion of the item, Members raised a number of points including the process for setting and measuring targets, the engagement of different departments and communities, and the relationship between the EEDI framework and other corporate strategies. Members also discussed the importance of avoiding silo working, ensuring the framework reflected the diversity of the City's workforce and population, and the need for clear definitions and aspirations regarding workforce and community engagement.

In response, it was confirmed that the framework had been approved in principle by the EEDI Sub-Committee and it was being shared with Corporate Services Committee for feedback ahead of finalisation. It was explained that measurable outcomes and targets would be developed as part of the implementation plan, and that ongoing engagement with departments, staff, and stakeholders would continue to ensure the framework's relevance and effectiveness. The EEDI Strategic Framework was designed to be inclusive and adaptable, with further updates to be provided to Corporate Services Committee as work progressed.

RESOLVED: That Members: -

- Received the report and noted its content.

6. REVENUE OUTTURN 2024-25

The Committee received a joint report of the Deputy Town Clerk, Chief People Officer, Chamberlain and Comptroller and City Solicitor comparing the revenue outturn for the services overseen by Corporate Services Committee in 2024-25 with the final budget for the year and detailing the final approved carry forward.

Members queried the causes of the overspend, with particular reference to the HR budget. It was noted that, despite a number of vacancies, there had been an overspend in HR due to additional agency and consultancy costs. Members asked for clarification on how the original budget had seen an increase and sought an assurance over the process for approving spending over budget, how such spending was managed, and whether contingency funds or reallocations from other departments had been used. Clarity was also sought relating to allocation of project related costs e.g. Salisbury Square Development, London Museum, Smithfield and whether these were being allocated to the right budgets.

In response, it was confirmed that the uplift in expenditure was mainly attributable to HR. Whilst they were carrying a number of vacancies, the use of agency staff and consultants was necessary to cover gaps and deliver on required work and with this resulting in an overspend in the HR budget. Where certain costs related to specific projects there was a need to ensure that these budgets were being properly allocated to reflect where costs were actually being incurred. Budget monitoring was managed at an officer level by the Senior Leadership Team, with additional oversight by Chief Officers and the relevant Service Committees. Overspending in some departments had been offset by better-than-expected returns on cash balances and investments, with it being important to ensure robust budget monitoring, and with this being scrutinised by the Finance Committee on a quarterly basis.

A Member further questioned the additional HR costs and requested a breakdown of these costs be provided to the Committee. The Chamberlain agreed to provide Members with a breakdown of the additional agency costs and consultant fees relating to the HR overspend.

RESOLVED: That Members: -

- Noted revenue outturn for 2024/25 showing an overall adverse variance to final budget of £1.411m; and
- Agreed carry forward requests of local risk budgets of £0.070m to 2025/26.
