Since 2014 the Corporation has been a member of the following Charters and agreements: Women in Finance; Business in the Community (BITC) Race at Work Charter; Social Mobility Index; Stonewall Diversity Champions; Disability Confident; London Living Wage Foundation.

The purpose of this report is to outline the various charters that the City of London Corporation is part of for consideration by Members on their continued suitability for us and review our progress against current commitments.

Recommendation(s)

Members are asked to:

- Note: progress to date against the charters for which we are accredited;
- Agree: which charters to continue adoption of.

Main Report

Background

1. In 2022, a focused EDI Directorate was set up to ensure that the City Corporation develops and implements impactful EDI strategies that enhance the competitiveness, attractiveness and vibrancy of the Square Mile. Prior to this date limited resource was dedicated to this area and resource was sat within Corporate HR, alongside semi-dedicated roles in some of our Institutions. The establishment of the directorate has enabled better but still developing focus on the charters the Corporation has signed up to over time.

2. In accordance with the Equality Act 2010 and the 9 protected characteristics, the participation of the Corporation in EDI Charters and agreements is aligned to the work of the EDI Directorate to follow recommendations from those accredited charters and adopt best practice. The EDI Directorate is dedicated to matters beyond the Equality Act 2010. An example is social mobility and diversifying the workforce, supporting employees from different socio-economic backgrounds in the aim of providing equal opportunities for all.
3. We currently are accredited to Women in Finance, Business in the Community (BITC) Race at Work Charter, Social Mobility Index, Stonewall Diversity Champions, Disability Confident, London Living Wage Foundation. Charters such as Women in Finance have been driven by our work with the FPS sector through Innovation & Growth. Others have been selected due to particular focus of Members or links to broader Corporate objectives and commitments such as the Living Wage Foundation. We are currently in the process of obtaining Ban the Box accreditation.

Discussion

4. Set out in the table at Appendix 1 is a summary of our current charter commitments and our progress against the respective commitments. Members are asked to give an early steer on whether they wish for us to continue with these charters, to consider others or otherwise prioritise, or to come back with further information or analysis as part of the EDI Strategy development later in the year.
5. There are myriad other indices and charters which organisations align with. These include: Mindful Employer Initiative (mental health at work); Opportunity Now (accelerating women's progress in the workplace); Employers Forum on Age (age diversity); Race for Opportunity (improving employment opportunities for ethnic minorities); Global Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Benchmark (multi-disciplinary tiered benchmarks); Gartner Inclusion Index (benchmarking methodology including staff perception).
6. Please note: there may be other charters that individual parts of the Corporation have signed up to. The work to map this fully is ongoing but some records are incomplete.

Corporate & Strategic Implications

7. Strategic implications - The proposals align with outcomes 1, 2 3, 4, 5 and 8 of the Corporate Plan 2018 to 2023. It also aligns with the CoLC's Social Mobility Strategy 2018 to 2028 and other Strategic Plans.
8. Resource implications – The project led by the EDI directorate is cross-cutting and it will have resource implications for all CoLC departments, services and institutions. Consequently, each department and institution should consider the human and financial resources required to achieve the Equality Objectives of the CoLC and to comply with the CoLC obligations under the Equality Act 2010 and related regulations.

9. Legal implications – The Public Sector Equality Duty (Section 149 of the Equality Act 2010) is supported by the specific duties regulation which requires public bodies to set themselves, specific and measurable equality objectives every four years. This proposal will enable the CoLC to comply with its obligations and specific duties regulations mentioned in the Equality Act.
10. Risk implications – The risk of non-compliance with the Equality Act 2010 and related regulations includes reputational damage and the possibility of the proceedings being brought by the Equalities and Human Rights Commission.
11. Equalities implications – This proposal will enable the CoLC to comply with the Public Sector Equality Duty 2010, Section 149 which covers the Public Sector Equality Duty and the Specific Duties regulations mentioned above. This proposal involves setting objectives required to comply with the Equality Act 2010. This proposal, is therefore, likely to have a positive impact on citizens protected by existing equality legislation which are age, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnership and pregnancy and maternity.
12. Climate implications – N/A.
13. Security implications – N/A.

Conclusion

14. Signing to the charters and agreement described in the report shows that the City Corporation is prepared to seize the opportunity to drive the corporate change necessary to tackle inequalities, including gender inequality and the institutional racism that exists, rather than seeing how it progresses moving forward. City Corporation is a uniquely organisation, with a role that goes beyond that of a local authority or financial institution, therefore making the right decision on following good practices provided by most relevant accredited charters and schemes would pave the way towards becoming an excellent example of a diverse and inclusive institution that genuinely promotes equality and equal opportunities for all.

Social mobility and Socio- Economic background Diversity

Appendix 3 – Core purpose of the Charters and Schemes discussed in this report

Women in Finance

The Women in Finance Charter is a pledge for gender balance across financial services. This is a commitment by HM Treasury and signatory firms to work together to build a more balanced and fair industry. Firms that sign up to this Charter are pledging to be the best businesses in the sector. The Charter reflects the government's aspiration to see gender balance at all levels across financial services firms. A balanced workforce is good for business – it is good for customers, for profitability and workplace culture, and is increasingly attractive for investors.

Business in the Community (BITC) Race at Work Charter

BITC is committed to empowering employers to tap into this economic potential by accelerating change for ethnically diverse employees. It works with a network of private and public sector partners to offer tailored practical advice and share new insights to drive long-term change. BITC is also calling on the government to mandate ethnicity pay gap reporting.

Social Mobility Index

This is a framework for measuring social mobility in the UK. It enables a systematic look at social mobility outcomes, as well as the drivers behind social mobility. It sets out a long-term vision for measuring and monitoring social mobility outcomes over the next 30 years across the UK. The Social Mobility Commission (SMC) published the first Social Mobility Index in 2016. The original index included data on geographic disparities across England in some social mobility drivers.

Stonewall Diversity Champions

Stonewall stands for lesbian, gay, bi, trans, queer, questioning and ace (LGBTQ+) people everywhere. It imagines a world where all LGBTQ+ people are free to be themselves and can live their lives to the full. Stonewall is part of a vibrant global movement for change made up of LGBTQ+ people, their allies, families and friends. It fights for freedom, for equality and for potential.

Disability Confident

Disability Confident is creating a movement of change, encouraging employers to think differently about disability and take action to improve how they recruit, retain and develop disabled people. It was developed by employers and disabled people's representatives to make it rigorous but easily accessible.

London Living Wage

A movement of businesses, organisations and people ensuring that everyone can earn a wage that meets their everyday needs. By paying the real Living Wage, employers are voluntarily taking a stand to ensure their employees can earn a wage which is enough to live on.
