Our Processes and Policies

Our Partners

We have a workforce that reflects the communities we police and an environment which creates a sense of belonging.

Equity and inclusion is central to how we deliver our service (local and national communities) and the public trust us to act fairly and with integrity.

Our policies, processes and procedures are fully nclusive and are informed by diverse representation on our scrutiny and key decision-making bodies.

We influence equity and inclusion through our network and supply chain

A local service with a national role, trusted by our communities to deliver policing with professionalism, integrity and compassion
